

The Awá are Earth's most threatened tribe.
Invaders are destroying their forest home. They face extinction.

Cut out this stencil, get some 'spray chalk' and put your mark anywhere it'll be noticed (please respect local property laws, and ensure children are supervised). Send us a photo of your work (info@survivalinternational.org). Tell us where it is, and try to include a famous landmark or a site relevant to Brazil. Do the same with paint on a piece of clothing, and wear it to spread the message.

This is an international movement which will not stop until the Brazilian government removes all invaders from Awá territory and saves the Indians from extinction.

www.survivalinternational.org/awa

Survival
for tribal peoples 